

Container Innovation

Shipping container construction is all about using rectangles and stacking these rectangles. It's your turn to design a building using shipping container rectangles. Think about the purpose of your building and what parts to cut out and what parts to add in!

Design it:

Describe it: